McClellan Treated Coolly by his Party.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—A special to the Telegram from Trenton N. J describing scenes in the democratic state convention to-day says Governor McClellan moved around uneasily. During the morning hour he received some visitors at his residence. The cold shoulder which has been given him by politicians here is, to me, the most remarkable scene I have ever remembered in a gubernatorial canvass. The unanimous verdict can be plainly read, "we have had enough of him." The change of feeling is all the more significant, taking into consideration the wild shout and hurrahs that greeted the mention of his name in the convention only three years ago

The Nebraska Republican Convention

OMAHA, Sept. 1.—The republican state convention of Nebraska, organized at Lincoln this afternoon, by electing Charles A Holmes temporary chairman and A. E. Cady and W Gibson secretaries. A specimen is the saying "a pound of pluck is worth a ton of luck." The first edition will be 100 000 copies

The Silver Dollars beginning to Float.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—There can be no doubt that the silver dollars are at last beginning to float. MASSACHUSETTS DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Ben Butler "in full Sympathy"—He Tells the Reason Why

Charles P Thompson Nominated for Governor—General Proceedings

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WORCESTER Mass Sept 1—The democratic state convention was called to order to-day by Col. John H French who made a brief speech congratulating the democracy on its unity and upon the distinguished character of the Cincinnati nominees.

Mayor McCafferty of Worcester was chosen temporary chairman

Gen Butler here entered the hall whereupon the convention sprang to its feet and cheered continuously for which token of respect Gen. Butler bowed acknowledgment

The usual committees were appointed

The convention called for a speech from Butler and was greatly disappointed when the chairman objected

The committee on permanent organization reported P A Collins for chairman of the convention

Tarbox offered a resolution that a joint committee of 8 from Faneuil Hall and Mechanics Hall conventions be appointed to constitute a democratic state committee until Jan 1st and then they take the place of the committees of those two conventions

A delegate protested against the resolution

Upon reassembling ex Gov Wm Gaston was named as a candidate for governor

Allen opposed the nomination and much confusion ensued during which Allen was choked off

A motion by Tarbox was adopted to proceed at once to ballot.

Brady moved an amendment that Butler be nominated by acclamation [Loud cheers and confusion.]

Butler declined

An informal ballot resulted Chas P Thompson 536 Wm Gaston 443

The chairman introduced Gen Butler who made an emphatic statement that he would not be a candidate. He said "This is my position before the country

First—I have come out from the republican party. I have stated my reasons for it. If those reasons would have any weight with the public they should have been the result of careful thought and not a bid for office

Second—If I did stand as a candidate, men would talk about my changing ideas and the result would be injurious to the united party. Let me fight one year in the ranks or three four or five if necessary. One other reason I will state to you. For a year or two I have sought by the aid of the democratic party to reform abuses in this state. A portion of the democrats for honest reasons have opposed this use of the democratic party but I trust have done so with no considerable amount of bitterness. I have learned that it is impossible to accomplish this until the democratic party moved by the principles of Jefferson and Hancock presents a solid front to the opposition. There were some feelings in those contests but they have passed away from my mind and I hope they will pass away from others.

A short and noisy discussion followed as to whether General Butler should have time to address the convention on other than business questions before voting for nominees began

The chairman called for a vote on suspending the rules and allowing Butler to speak. The vote was nearly unanimous for it. General Butler then made a speech presenting the superior advantages to the country of democratic over republican administration

First official ballot for governor was (Whole number of votes 1026 necessary to a choice 514) A B Shepard, Boston, 26 B F Butler, 6 D F Sullivan Boston, 4 C Woodworth Chicopee 1 Wm R. Plunkett Pittsfield 12 Josiah G Abbott, 1 Jonas French Gloucester, 1 William Gaston Boston 448 Charles P Thompson Gloucester 586

Thompson having received a majority of the votes his nomination was made unanimous.

The state ticket was completed as follows: Lieutenant governor Alpha E. Thompson secretary of state Michael F Donahue treasurer Francis J Parker auditor Charles E Field attorney general P A Collins presidential electors at large Josiah G Abbott of Boston and Jonas H French, of Gloucester

The report of the committee on resolutions was unanimously adopted. All resolutions are local except the first making complete endorsement of the Cincinnati convention and nominees and denouncing the republican party for conducting the campaign on a basis of sectional hate. Adjourned

HAYES ON POPULAR EDUCATION.

ADDRESS AT CANTON OHIO TO VETERANS OF THE WAR

The Status and Needs of the South—The Indian—The Territories—The Immigrant

The Power of the Government to Aid Education—Our National Prosperity—Etc Etc

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN]

CANTON Ohio Sept 1—President Hayes in his speech to-day at the reunion of the 23d Ohio volunteers said: I am firmly convinced that the subject of popular education deserves the earnest attention of the people of the whole country with a view to wise and comprehensive action by the government of the United States. The means at command by local and state authorities are in many cases wholly inadequate to deal with the question. The magnitude of the evil to be eradicated is not [illegible] apprehended generally. I should consider these facts

1 In the late slaveholding states under the system of slavery education was forbidden the colored people and education of the poor white people was greatly neglected. By reason of this state of things in 1870 more than 4 000 000 of people in the south of school age and over that age were unable to read and write and more than three quarters of a million voters were too illiterate to prepare or even read their own ballots. This evil is not rapidly diminishing. By latest available statistics it appears that in 1878 the total school population white and colored in the late slave holding states was 5 187 581 and that only 2 0[illegible] 096 were during that year enrolled in any school. This leaves 2 [illegible] 488 almost two and a half millions without the means of education. Citizenship and the right to vote were conferred upon the colored people by the government and the people of the United States. It is therefore a sacred duty as it is the highest interest of the United States to see that these new citizens and voters are fitted by education for the grave responsibility which has been cast upon them. Dr Ruffner school superintendent of Virginia, says "I know not what is true of the northern and western states but I can say for my state and most of the southern states we are not able to educate our people in any tolerable sense. We are too poor to do it. A few years ago I showed this conclusively by statistics. There has not been much increase in financial ability in these states since that time, no increase on an average in my own state as far as I can judge and every well informed man knows that whatever the wants of a state her power of taxation has a limit."

2 In the territories of the United States it is estimated that there are over 200,000 Indians almost all of whom are uncivilized. They have been hunters and warriors but now no one who observes the rapid progress of railroads and settlements in the west can fail to see that the game and fish on which the Indians hitherto subsisted, are about to disappear. Solution of the Indian question will speedily be either extinction of the Indians or their absorption into American citizenship by means of the civilizing influences of education. With the disappearance of game there can no longer remain Indian hunters or warriors. The days of Indian wars are drawing to a close. There will soon be no room for questions as to the department to which the Indians will belong. In a few years all must agree that he should belong like every other citizen, only to himself. Time is not distant when he should be chiefly cared for by the civilizing department of the government,—the bureau of education

3 The people of the territory of New Mexico have never been provided with means of education. The number of people in that territory in 1870 ten years old and upward who could not read and write was 5[illegible],220. This is largely more than half of the population. The school population is now over 30 000 of whom only about one sixth are enrolled in the schools. It will not be questioned that the power of the general government to make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territories belonging to the United States, is sufficient to authorize it to provide for the education of the increasing mass of illiterate citizens growing up in New Mexico and in other territories of the United States

4. The number of emigrants arriving in the United States is greater than ever before. It is not improbable, from present indications, that from this source alone there will be added during the current decade to the population of our country 5,000 000 of people. One day last spring there arrived in New York 4007 emigrants almost 5000 in a single day at that one port. During the quarter ending the 30th of June last the number of immigrants into the United States averaged 8000 per month and during the four months ending the 31st of July last, there were nearly 300 000. Happily for the United States, several of the large elements of this immigration contain very few people who are wholly uneducated. Germans and Scandinavians who have formed a part have been educated at public schools in their native countries but it is probable that from one fourth to one third of the present total immigration into our country is from foreign nations, in which popular education is greatly neglected. It may reasonably be estimated that at least from 20 to 25 per cent of immigrants are illiterate

In the current decade we shall probably receive from abroad more than 1,000 000 people of school age and upwards who are unable to read and write any language, and of these about a quarter of a million in a few years will share with us equally, man for man the duties and responsibilities of citizens and voters

The president quoted words of Jefferson Madison and Webster in favor of free schools and education in which they agreed that the prerequisite to the maintenance of popular government was popular education. Already in too many instances elections have become the farce which Madison predicted and the tremendous tragedy which we saw when we were soldiers of the union and in which we bore part could never have occurred if in all sections of our country there had been universal suffrage based upon universal education. In our country as everywhere else it will be found that in the long run ignorant voters are powder and ball for demagogues. The failure to support free schools in any part of our country tends to cheapen and degrade the right of suffrage and will ultimately destroy its value in every other part of the republic. The unvarying testimony of history is, that nations which win the most renowned victories in peace and war are those which provide ample means for popular education. Without free schools there is no such thing as affording to every man an unfettered start and fair chance in the race of life

In the present condition of our country universal education requires aid from the general government. Authority to grant such aid is established by the republic and instances of its exercise run down through almost every administration to the present time. Let this aid be granted whenever it is essential to the enjoyment of free popular institutions

The president gave figures showing the wonderful financial and industrial progress of the country, and its excess of exports over imports. In a period of thirty years prior to 1880 there has been only one year in which we received into the country from abroad more of precious metals than we sent out of the country. That was an exceptional year at the beginning of the war. In 1861 our imports of gold and silver exceeded the exports by $16 549 521. In all other years except the last our exports of precious metals have exceeded our imports per year from $4,000 00 to $90 000 000 and have averaged at least $40 000 000 a year

In the last fiscal year the imports of gold and silver exceeded $75 891 391 a gain from abroad of precious metals over the previous year of $81 592,832 and a gain over the average yearly balance of thirty years past of $115 000 000. This gain in precious metals alone of over $7 000 00[illegible] in the first year after resumption of specie payment in the face of confident predictions that resumption would result in ruinous contraction of currency, may well encourage those who wish to take the remaining steps necessary to reach a perfectly sound and healthy condition of the currency

The enormous gain in tonnage of American and foreign vessels entered at seaports of the United States is shown by the following: Tonnage, 1860 6 000 194 tons tonnage 1870, 6 230 189 tonnage 1880 15 261 045. Never could the man engaged in legitimate industry or business reckon more confidently upon reasonable remuneration for his labor and capital than at the present time. People of foreign nations understand this almost as well as we understand it ourselves. From all parts of Europe people are coming to America—people not less thrifty nor less intelligent than those they leave behind—to share with us the abounding prosperity which we now enjoy. They come here to better their condition because we are prosperous because we are at peace at home and abroad and because they hope here to find civil and religious liberty guaranteed. These motives, which so strongly attract immigration are the truths for which we fought in the war for the union. Let us resolve to do all we can in our respective places in life sacredly to guard them not only for ourselves and our posterity but for all mankind

THE VEXED LEVEE QUESTION

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

It is rumored that petitions which are intended to be presented to the common council are being circulated in the city asking that the public levee be donated to the Oregon Railway Company Limited for terminal purposes for their road and that the matter has already been arranged with the council which only awaits the petition for action

Now it is well known that the council has heretofore been opposed to such action and I do not believe the city [illegible] the part of the council to take such action [illegible]

This levee is the only public landing in the city and should be preserved as such. No imaginary advantage [illegible] of a railroad terminal [illegible] compensate for it [illegible] is not apply to another [illegible]

SALEM Sept. 1, 1880

Court met at 11 o'clock A M and adjourned without date

Smith Bros. & Co resps, vs C M Roi[illegible]r and others, apps. Appeal from Multnomah county. Opinion by Waldo, J

Head Note—A complaint was filed in a justice's court on the 14th day of February, 1878 and a summons issued requiring the defendant to appear and answer the complaint on the 19th following. On the same day a writ of attachment was issued and served on the plaintiff in this writ as garnishees, who answered that they owed and had agreed to pay the defendant in the attachment the sum of $150. The affidavit upon which the writ was issued stated that the debt was not "secured by any mortgage, lease or pledge on real or personal property." The defendant could not be found and was not served with summons until the 11th day of April 1878, when the justice erased the word "February" where it appeared in the summons and inserted the word "April" and delivered to the constable and the same was thereupon served upon the defendant, requiring him to answer on the 19th of April, 1878. The justice also erased the word "February" from the file mark on the complaint and inserted the word "April". Judgment was afterward on the 4th day of May 1878 rendered against the defendant in the action. In the meantime the garnishees treating the attachment as dissolved had paid to the defendant the said sum of $150 and when execution was issued on the judgment applied for an injunction restraining its enforcement against them upon their answer. Held

1 That the defect in the affidavit did not render the attachment void

2 That the action in the justice's court did not abate nor the attachment become dissolved by the failure to make service within the time specified in the summons

3 That the act of the justice in erasing the file mark on the complaint was a nullity. That the word April written in the summons and delivery to the officer was equivalent to the issue of a new summons and the erasures were made nullities

4 That the service of the summons within sixty days, brings the case within the rule laid down in Knapp vs King 6 Or 248 that the justice had not trial jurisdiction

FARM AND FARM IMPLEMENTS

[illegible] Aug 2[illegible] 1880

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In the Weekly [illegible] of Aug 1st I notice an article on Waste in Farm Implements [illegible] I am a farmer and [illegible] that I found [illegible] farmers [illegible] computing the cost and the benefit to be derived [illegible] it is cheaper to buy than to hire [illegible] the cost of hiring [illegible] a new one [illegible] in the time of [illegible] and wages for machines and teams

It is also true that farmers throw away old implements and buy new ones, unless it is expedient. More often they cling to an old worn out machine which by doing imperfect work or by breaking frequently leaving the hands idle and grain standing save no money. It is sometimes expedient to lay aside an implement not worn out and buy something better adapted to the work in hand. It must not be forgotten that a seeder or cultivator that slightly increases the yield or a harvester that saves a small percentage more grain than the models in use will readily pay up the loss incurred by throwing away the old implement. For instance in the raising of corn in the interior western states improvements in cultivators followed each other so fast that all expert farmers changed tools often and have now on hand an assortment of cultivators of various dates and patterns nearly as good as new. Close observation taught them it was economy to sacrifice in the spring and gather larger crops in the fall. But such cases are rare and for a brief period

Not near so much lost as is supposed by exposure to sun and wind and rain. The vital parts of a machine do not wear by exposure but by friction. The damage by rust is not great. The wooden parts seldom give way during the life of a machine. If they do the farmer soon hews out a piece with his ax or hires a neighboring mechanic to repair the breakage at slight cost. When however the gearing wears out the price of repairs is so high that it is better to abandon the machine. It matters little then whether the wooden parts are well preserved or not. Of course shelter for machinery is very profitable. But men who are not farmers overrate the necessity of it

It is true that farming implements are too enormously high. But the farmer cannot afford to do without them. It is true that many go in debt for them so they do for sugar and coffee for boots and clothing. The ones who pay their store bills promptly will pay for their implements promptly

If not too burdensome I want to say a word about the farmers advisers. Men in towns who sit in offices stand behind counters or ornament street corners all when they see so many machines going out to the farms cry out against the extravagance the woeful waste of the farmers. They predict ruin and bankruptcy to the country. They do not realize the vast extent of the grain crops nor the enormous expense difficulty and hard labor it takes to produce and save those crops. They figure up the money invested in machinery in the county and state and then sigh and groan. Let these sorrow stricken fellows count up the amount of grain consumed and exported and then remember that the farmer by right of experience attentiveness and intelligence knows best how these figures are attained and are to be increased. They may thus save their tears and lamentations.

The newspaper man also appropriates the farmer and tells him in curt words of his shortcomings. Poor farmer. He is an untaught infant a blundering reckless booby, who must be drilled and scolded by his editorial friend. Unthinking and shiftless he must be taught by the dainty young man in the newspaper office to plow deeper, make better fences and gates feed and shelter his stock, buy fewer tools use them more, keep them dry etc. The farmer is behind the age and generation. If he were not he would be asking into the city and with mire on his boots and hay seed down his back he would instruct the lawyer the merchant and the editor in their business

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 2, 1880.

CHEAPER THAN SHOTGUNS.

The country was not surprised that the democrats carried Alabama, but when the enormous majority of 60,000 was reported, there was a strong suspicion that a very extended fraud had been practiced, and when the full returns were in and 15,000 more were added to the majority, even conservative democrats hinted to each other that their brethren in Alabama had "rather overdone the business." The more complete reports obtainable only after the lapse of time, show that the matter was even worse than was expected. The opposition to the democracy took particular pains in many districts to ascertain the actual vote on their side. They thoroughly canvassed and recorded every ballot cast for the opposition ticket. In every instance, however, the official count contradicted their record and gave the democrats majorities ranging from hundreds up to thousands in places where the real majority was decidedly the other way. The provision requiring that a representative of the opposite party shall be appointed to witness the count of the ballots was complied with by selecting colored men who could not read. When this failed, the republican member was excluded from the place where the count was made or was prevented from exercising any control over it. Some of the frauds perpetrated are set out in detail in an address issued by the republican state central committee, since the election. Among those more fully substantiated is an instance in which the single candle by which the room was lighted was upset. The republican put out his hand for the ballot-box, but found it gone. When the light re-appeared the floor was strewn with ballots, but the box was full again. On entering protest, he was driven from the house. At McGhee's Switch in Montgomery county, the republicans polled 672 votes by actual count, receiving their votes from one man and polling them so that he could see them,—a precaution that was taken because they expected to be cheated, after the polls were closed, the republican inspector was ejected. A militia company from Montgomery drove away the republicans who were waiting outside to hear the returns. The inspectors, having the field to themselves, then proceeded to the count, and made a return giving the republicans 132 votes and the democrats 540! At Kendall's Beat, in the same county, 544 republican votes were deposited under similar circumstances. A republican majority of 475 was reduced to 46, and even this little majority was thrown out by the board of supervisors. At Robinson's 580 republican votes were cast and 50 democratic. At this poll there was a quarrel between two colored men, whereupon the democratic inspectors claimed that it invalidated the election, carried off the ballot box and no return at all has been made since. The same thing occurred at Porter's beat, where the vote was 400 republican to 50 democratic.

At Union Academy and Dooley, where the republicans had clear majorities, the inspectors reported democratic majorities larger than the entire number of voters. In Wilcox county the republicans knowing they would be cheated did not vote at all, and the democrats with the field all to themselves, returned twice as many votes as there were voters. The same fraud was practiced in Lowndes county and in Green county where the republican majority is over 2000 the ballot box was stolen from the sheriff's office and the democratic candidates were declared elected. The committee's report closes with the following ringing protest.

> The truth is, that the people are as much opposed to negro suffrage now as they ever were, and, while professedly accepting the constitutional amendments, do not regard it as an offense morally to take advantage of the timidity and ignorance of the negro to nullify his vote. It is only upon this theory that participation of otherwise honorable men in these frauds, or acceptance of the results of the frauds by men of that character, can be accounted for. While this view may lessen the turpitude of the acts committed, before their own consciences, it does not lessen the fear and distrust which the people of the nation should feel at the domination of the country by people who can bring themselves to so feel and act. An earnest and a manful struggle for a fair, full and free election has just ended; the vote of nearly 100,000 true and loyal men has been overthrown by the bold and shameless frauds, that can and will be guarded against in November, of a few hundred election managers whose consciences and fears are hushed, and whose hopes are excited by the wild, sweet music of the rebel yell. But "The mill can never grind with the water that has passed."

This last method of keeping the south solid is not less effective and furthermore is cheaper than the shotgun policy.

SPECULATORS, CORNERS AND RINGS.

The result of Jim Keene's wheat syndicate, in a loss to those who composed it was stated a few days ago. The history of this syndicate or ring formed for the purpose of crushing outside dealers is pretty well known to the country, and shows it to have been one of the most ill-concocted schemes which have ever been formed by any of the great moneyed men of the country. The first thing which strikes one who studies the history of this scheme is, that a speculation for a rise in wheat in the face of an assured crop surpassing any in the previous agricultural history of the country, was an error of the first magnitude, and the second is that such operations are not only unwise but very detrimental to the business interests of the country. In fact there are few reasons for the application of the term gambling so often made to the transactions of the mining stock boards and their members which does not justify the same term in relation to the transactions of produce exchanges and the gigantic operations in wheat, corn, cotton, beef, pork, iron and petroleum which are permitted to go on without comment or criticism. Speculation is not gambling, though gambling is of course always speculative. Speculation in stocks or trade involves calculation, intelligence and foresight, gambling is a combination of skill and luck. Great capacity is required to forecast the markets, to go through the processes of thought, through which great speculative movements are developed, and the elements combined so as to bring them to a successful issue. With this tolerant feeling toward speculators, it must be conceded that speculations such as that which Keene and his confederates undertook are prejudicial and often injurious to the wellbeing and prosperity of the people. Some speculations are so obviously injurious in their interference between producers and consumers, that we can trace very bad effects from them in the violent reactions and disturbances which they produce, and others seriously interrupt the current of trade, enhance the cost of living and create discord in all business relations. In this last class, the Railway World places the speculative enterprise of the Chicago ring which began last fall, but ended less than a month ago. It further argues that the indications last fall were that our cereal crops would furnish an abundant surplus to supply the deficiencies of Europe, and that prices, while satisfactory to the producer, would be low enough to relieve the wants of many millions of people across the Atlantic. Speculators step in at this juncture and conclude to trade upon the wants of these consumers of food, to whom cheap bread is a vital necessity. The calculation resolves itself into the following proposition: Europe must require from 150,000,000 to 200,000,000 of bushels of wheat to feed its starving laborers, and by buying up a large control of the supply we can make them pay a price which will give us a great profit. In case of success, therefore, the gain would go neither to the producer nor the consumer, but to the intermediary speculators. The calculation was not sound, for not only was the surplus too large to be controlled, but the demand at a certain point was instantly checked. People required bread, but when its price is too great a tax upon the poor consumer he finds food substitutes, not so desirable, but cheaper, and he ceases to buy wheat. Corn, rice and potatoes take its place. The export demand suddenly ceases, and the wheat speculators find themselves with elevators and storehouses filled with grain, but without a market. This is probably the dilemma in which the "wheat syndicate" found itself in the case under consideration, and it was this miscalculation as to the purchasing ability of consumers which led the speculators astray.

We have no desire to hear of pecuniary losses made in trade operations, but no great amount of sympathy will be wasted in this case, for the speculation was mischievous as well as badly conceived. The greatest good of the greatest number, in this world, is to have food cheap and abundant, and all efforts to interfere with the provisions of nature in a way to add to the hardships and sufferings of the poor, are to be condemned. The same logic applies to the reported speculation in pork and spare ribs, which are said to be cornered by a clique of wealthy traders in Chicago. It is too much like trying to make money out of suffering, for eventually the consumers pay the profits or curtail their supplies of necessary food. Speculation in bread or meat is neither wise nor humane when it is a mere "corner" game.

THE LEVEE QUESTION.

Again the vexed question of disposing of the city levee is being agitated in the common council. This time it comes up on granting the prayer of a petition, numerously signed, asking the council to "grant to the Oregon Railway Company, limited, the use of the public levee, under such condition as will secure the terminus of said company's railroads on said public levee." A correspondent, over the signature of "Argus," whose communication appears elsewhere, certainly adduces some good reasons why the demand or request should not be acceded to; nor does it seem likely that the councilmen, who have so bitterly opposed the proposition to donate this valuable piece of public property to a private corporation, will feel inclined to go back on their former views. Nor does it seem necessary that such a bonus should be given to the company to build its road to this city. It is not likely that it will make its terminus at Beaverton or Powell's valley when it will have to depend so largely upon Portland for business to support it. The experience which property owners had in the matter of inducing Mr. Holladay to build the west side road down Fourth street taught some of them a lesson which they will not soon forget, many of them feeling as a Fourth street property owner felt after the road was finished, when he said, "I gave Ben Holladay $500 to bring the road in, and now I would give him $1000 to take it out." This thing of requiring donations from the people who are to support the road after it is built is a wrong practice. It requires a great deal of money to build a railroad, and the amounts which are donated seldom influence the location of the road. They are built where they will get the most traffic, and no contributions nor the failure on the part of the people to contribute are likely to induce the builders to change the location from such a place. If the company now seeking to obtain possession of the city property in question will not build their proposed road unless they get this particular spot for a depot, and get it without paying the market value for it, it is not likely that it will build the road at all, as the donation of such a small piece of ground will certainly not induce the expenditure of the millions of dollars that it would take to build the roads now in contemplation.

The statistician of the agricultural department has finished his annual report on farm labor and wages, from which a number of interesting facts are gathered. The table giving the average of wages of farm laborers with and without board, as compared with the wages paid in several branches of skilled mechanical labor, was compiled from returns made to the department last April, from which it is learned that in the Pacific states and mining states and territories, the range of monthly wages for farm laborers without board is between $30 75, the highest, in Montana, and $22 50, the lowest, in Washington territory. Of the states east of the Mississippi river, Minnesota pays her farm laborers better than any other northern state, the monthly wages with board being $16 33, while Vermont only pays $12 62. In the southern states the prices paid range from $12 26 in Louisiana to $7 82 in South Carolina, the average in the southern states being $9 60.

A little flattery from the Grover-Chadwick crowd has sufficed to draw Col. Nesmith into the democratic fold, and he now lies down in the same bed with them. How peaceful his slumbers are none can tell, but they must be somewhat disturbed by dreams of the numerous times which these bad fellows have slaughtered him. Should Hancock be elected, Nes. will wake up to find that he has again been kicked out into the cold, while Watkinds is snugly ensconsed in the U. S. marshalship, the editor of the Standard in the postoffice, and some other equally warm friend in the customhouse. Then how regretfully will he look back to the speech solely devoted to the abuse of Gen. Garfield, and filled with all the epithets of which Nesmith is master, which he made last night.

CITY.

UNKNOWN BODY FOUND.—Tuesday afternoon the body of a man in an advanced stage of decomposition was found floating in the Willamette slough about twenty miles below the city near Joy's farm. Coroner Garnold was notified and left in the evening to hold an inquest. The body is described as follows: Five feet six or seven inches high about forty-five years old short full beard and moustache, slightly streaked with gray and dark auburn hair. It had evidently been in the water about two months. He was dressed in a steel gray tweed suit the pants and coat being alike and the vest slightly different from them, striped cotton shirt white linen collar and No 7 boots with screw soles. His pockets contained a card of the Clarendon and one of the Burton house three combs and five linen cambric handkerchiefs. One of the handkerchiefs bore the name of "K. J. Stoneman, 15" written plainly with India ink in a lady's hand and another a dim stencil mark, "C. F Al— or C F A." Nothing further concerning the identity of the body could be ascertained. It was buried near the spot where found.

DEATH OF J T SCOTT.—After a painful illness of four weeks Mr John T Scott died at his home in Forest Grove Washington county yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Deceased was an old and much respected pioneer. He was born in Kentucky on the 18th of Feb 1809 and consequently was in the 71st year of his age at the time of his death. He emigrated to the state of Illinois when quite a young man, and came to Oregon in 1852 and has ever since resided here. Mr Scott leaves a wife and large family of sons and daughters, most of whom have reached the estate of manhood and womanhood. He is the father of H. W Scott, editor of THE OREGONIAN, Mrs. A S. Duniway, editor of the New Northwest, Mrs C A Coburn, Mrs M F Cook, Mrs. J M Kelty, Mrs McCord, Miss [illegible] Scott and W B Scott. The funeral will take place from the residence of the family at Forest Grove on Friday forenoon at 11 o'clock.

NOT REPAIRED YET.—Several weeks ago a portion of Pacific dock gave way under a heavy weight of wheat and flour. As yet the damage has not been repaired by the owners of that wharf. There is a flattering prospect of the matter of the repairs to the dock being a question which the courts will be called upon to adjudicate. It is claimed by the owners of the wharf that there was a want of proper caution and judgment on the part of Mr. Hatch, the lessee of the dock, in storing away the grain and flour, that, in consequence of this, the accident occurred. It is quite probable that a suit for damages will be instituted. On the other hand it is claimed that the dock was improperly constructed; that if it had been built as substantially as it should have been it would not have yielded. Mr. W. S. Ladd, who is one of the principal owners of the wharf, is expected to return to the city to-day, when the matter will be settled in some way.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT TO THE "WIDE WEST."—About 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when the Wide West was three miles from Vancouver the head of her remaining cylinder was blown out with a loud report. The explosion drove several pieces of metal among some Chinese passengers on the main deck. One was seriously though not dangerously injured about the head, while others received flesh wounds about the legs. The steamer anchored in the river and sent a boat to Vancouver where assistance was asked for by telegraph. The Idaho was dispatched to her relief and with the Ordway, which hove in sight soon after, towed the disabled boat to this city. She will be laid up about three weeks until repairs are made. The Emma Hayward takes her place on the Cascades route, and the [illegible] goes on the Astoria line.

[illegible] A NERVE.—Yesterday afternoon Dr. W H. Saylor successfully operated on a young man named Grose, a private patient at Good Samaritan hospital, who had suffered for more than a year from sciatica, all known external or internal remedies having failed to bring relief. The operation consisted of cutting on the hip down to the sciatic nerve and stretching it. This was the first operation of the kind ever attempted in Oregon. It was witnessed with much interest by Drs Wells, Frazar, Strong, H C Wilson and a number of medical students.

SUDDEN DEATH.—John Bartholomew for many years an engineer on the railroad between the lower and upper Cascades, came to the city on the Wide West Tuesday evening, and shortly after his arrival died aboard the boat. His ailment was Bright's disease of the kidneys, from which he had suffered a long time. He was about thirty-five years old, and unmarried. The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock this afternoon under the auspices of Willamette Lodge No 2 A. F. & A. M.

NEW ROADWAY.—A force of men commenced yesterday to grade a roadway from Front street down to the foot of Jefferson street. The roadway will be 30 feet in width and be either planked or macadamized. The grading will be completed by the last of the present week. When completed, it will afford a very easy means of reaching the ferry-boat and be a great public convenience.

QUITE ILL.—Rev. J N. Dennison, of East Portland, who has been appointed by the M E. conference to the pastorate of the church at Salem, was taken very ill Monday. He is much better at present, being able to sit up and his physician hopes he will be around in a few days. Mr Dennison expected to move to Salem on Tuesday, but was prevented by his unexpected illness.

VISITED THE LOCKS.—Mr T F Oakes vice president of the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company, accompanied by Hon J N Dolph, attorney for the company, paid a visit yesterday to Oregon City. Mr Oakes visited the locks and made a personal inspection of the works. These gentlemen returned to the city yesterday afternoon on the steamer Bonita.

NEW DOCK.—The O R. & N Co have just finished an open dock, seventy feet wide adjoining Ainsworth dock on the south. It is connected with the latter, also with Front street by an inclined roadway. The principal use of the dock will be for loading and discharging heavy, bulky machinery.

FOR YAQUINA BAY.—Messrs Lotan and Ward, inspectors of hulls and boilers will leave Saturday for Yaquina bay to inspect the side-wheel steamer Mollie which has recently been refitted, and which will run from the bay to the head of navigation on the Yaquina river.

THE TURF.—Rye Straw, Mollie Miller Hattie, Goldie R, Record Pop Eye, Russel Coleman, Belle of the Woods, Flora A, Edith H, Kate Owens, Florence E, Tudor Lexington and Robert Lindsey are in training at the Fair Ground race track for the coming fall races.

CROWDING THE MACADAM.—The contractor for macadamizing Front street is causing the work to be crowded forward with as much vigor as practicable. The work has already been completed to a point midway between Main and Madison.

LAYING THE FOUNDATION.—A force of stone masons is engaged in laying the foundation for the county vault. The foundation will be built of stone and the remainder of brick. In a few days the work of laying the brick will be commenced.

WILL TAKE CHARGE.—Prof C W Roby of LaCrosse, Wisconsin, who was elected principal of Central school vice Prof S W King, resigned, arrived on the Elder last night, and will enter upon his duties this morning.

CHANGE IN FACULTY.—Dr W H Saylor who has ably filled the chair of anatomy in the medical department of the Willamette University has resigned. Dr S E Josephi was chosen to fill the position.

"OTHER PEOPLE."—At the Congregational church to-night, the pastor will preface the prayer meeting with a brief lecture on "Other People." Strangers cordially invited.

SUDDEN RISE IN THE WILLAMETTE.—The recent rains caused a rise of sixteen inches in the Willamette above Oregon City. The river receded six inches yesterday.

WELCH'S BENEFIT.—On account of rain the proposed benefit to James Welch was postponed for one week and will take place next Saturday in East Portland park.

Warren & Mu[illegible]o House 143 First street has just received from New York the well known and splendid publications of Ed Schuberth & Co. Lovers of a superior class of music should not fail to call and examine.

To the Honorable the Committee on Landings and Wharves and the Mayor and Council of the City of Portland:—The undersigned citizens and taxpayers of the City of Portland in view of the many great and lasting benefits to be secured to the city by close connection with all Railroad lines proposing a terminus in this vicinity would most respectfully petition and request your honorable body to grant to the Oregon Railway Company, limited, the use of the Public Levee under such condition as will secure the terminus of said Company's Railroad on said Public Levee believing as we do that litigation and contention with the Railroad Company will result in no benefit to the city but may operate to prejudice against our interests with the people of the Willamette Valley and other parts of Oregon.

OUR BEST SOCIETY.

The Rev Dr Milburn delivered his third and last of the series of lectures at the hall of the Young Men's Christian Association on last evening on the subject "Our Best Society." The hall was packed with an appreciative audience of truly our best society eager to hear more of the lecturer's words of burning eloquence. The doctor described and contrasted the best society of England and America. The permanency of English families was due to the adoption of the motto of the Black Prince, Ich Dien, I serve. One of the most beautiful of sights was to witness the prince of Wales before the queen of England seated on the throne delivering her address to parliament, where he remains kneeling during the reading of the whole address in obedience to his adopted motto.

To this motto was due the growth and permanence of families in either the new or old world. The lecturer graphically described the emptiness of what often passed for our best society. The elements of good society are the manly worth culture and wealth as a subsequent element, and above all and crowning all Christian character. The lecture throughout was full of intense interest, and the audience seemed quite reluctant to allow the doctor to close.

We understand that arrangements have been made with Mr Milburn for another series of lectures before he returns to San Francisco probably in about three or four weeks. "What a Blind Man Saw in Paris," "Aaron Burr" and "S S Prentiss" are subjects spoken of for the next series of lectures.

MAT THE BOSS CATERER.—Our old friend Mat Keith who needs no introduction to this public is again ready to receive all his friends and for that matter, the public generally at his place of business, corner of First and Oak streets. He is just in receipt of a lot of splendid Olympia oysters—fresh and delicious. As a caterer Mat has no superior on the Pacific coast. Oysters will be served in every desirable style as only Mat is capable of serving them. The verdict of the public is no one can serve up oysters like Keith. Fresh oysters received almost daily. Just call and try for yourself, and you will decide that Mat is the boss caterer. All orders will meet with prompt attention.

MR MILBURN'S TOUR.—Rev W H Milburn will before his return to San Francisco visit Corvallis, Eugene, Albany, Salem, Oregon City, The Dalles, Walla Walla, Olympia, Seattle, Victoria and Astoria. It is likely that he will lecture at least once in each of the cities mentioned.

NEEDED LEGISLATION

PORTLAND Aug 31 1880

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In view of the early meeting of the state legislature allow me through you columns to suggest some few amendments to our laws for their consideration which I think would be of great value to the people and prevent litigation

And first as to the assessment of property section 16 title III of chapter 5 should be amended by striking out all the last part thereof which allows the deduction of indebtedness This clause possibly was inserted when the act was passed with intent to do justice to all but it has proved to work injustice and oppression upon the poor and honest man and casts additional burdens upon him by compelling him to pay more than his just proportion of the tax but to the unscrupulous and opulent it affords a means for escaping his share of the public burden—a premium for perjury, and an inducement to be even more dishonest than he otherwise would be The law as it stands may be beneficial in a few isolated instances but its general effect is bad and it works far more evil than it does good This subject has been ventilated pretty extensively through your columns for the last several years and it is to be hoped that the present legislature will not let the doors close behind them until that evil is remedied. The people demand some legislation upon that subject that will hereafter prevent the rich man from throwing on the shoulders of the honest man of moderate means who tries to keep out of debt, gain an honest living and keep a home for himself and family all the burdens of sustaining the government, whilst he is enjoying more than an ordinary share of its blessings Let every member resolve himself into a committee whose especial duty it shall be to correct this evil

Our law at the present time in relation to married women is in an uncertain and indefinite state The last legislature made amendments or rather enacted a law changing the common law doctrine in such a way that no one can say to what extent it was intended to reach No one can tell from reading the law whether they intended to abolish an "act by the courtesy" or not. It certainly has not been done in direct words and no one will ever know whether there is such a thing as an 'estate by the courtesy' or not as the law stands until a decision of the supreme court construes the law This state of affairs is not wholesome.

Why not at the coming session repeal section 30, title 2, of chapter 17 Miscellaneous Laws, which creates the estates of dower and courtesy, and then amend the law relating to the "descent of real property," title I chapter 10 Miscellaneous Laws giving to either husband or wife, as the case may be, in case of the death of the other, a certain part of the estate in fee simple, placing them on an equal footing before the law? If there is such an estate under our law at present as an estate of dower, or 'by the courtesy,' it is very unjust and unequal. It gives to the husband who survives the wife the whole of the wife's lands during his life, but to the wife who sometimes and not unfrequently, to her who has saved and kept it together, to her who may have several small children to clothe, educate and take care of, it gives but one-third (dower right) during her life This to my mind is all wrong—an outrage upon our present advanced civilization a relic of barbarism—and no member of that honorable body could dare stand up and oppose the abolishing of such a law, if it exists, and place both husband and wife upon the same footing, by giving the survivor an interest in fee of the other's real estate And then it will need no judicial decision to ascertain their respective rights

If this be done then it becomes necessary to go one step further and amend the law relating to the conveyance of a wife's real estate by repealing section 2 of title 1 of chapter 6, of Miscellaneous Laws which provides for the husband joining with the wife in order to convey her separate estate. There is no reason why, if the records show the fee of a piece of real estate to be either in man or women, married or single that such person cannot sell or convey the same without joining with them some other person not known on the record. I have known many instances of litigation growing out of this law We have records and a place to keep them, that are supposed to impart notice to the world as to the ownership of real property and a search of that record should be all the inquiry a purchaser is required to make, If a piece of property stands in the name of John Smith, John Smith s deed should be sufficient to convey the land without hunting all over the world to ascertain whether or not he has a wife living And so if Mary Jones is shown by the record to be the owner of the property, Mary Jones deed should be sufficient to convey all the title she had without joining any one with her in the conveyance A woman is an identity whether married or single, and as such the law should look upon her

There are several other places in our statutes that needs alteration For instance As our law is, a defendant nor his wife in a criminal action, is allowed to testify This is all wrong, and often works oppression, injustice and evil There is no reason why every defendant should not be allowed to testify in his own behalf and let the jury put that value to his testimony which they think his words are entitled to Many times he is the only individual who can explain the matter, and if his mouth be closed he must take the consequences. This is not right, every person should be heard in his own behalf, every one has the right to speak

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN

NEW YORK Sept 1 —Although not at all active the freight market via Cape Horn show more life than at any period for a long time past This is partly due to the fact that there is a better movement in some classes of merchandise as well as the fact that the tonnage on berth is reduced to vessels of two lines only instead of three an materially helping those who have ships The tonnage movement for this past month amounted to six vessels viz Four from this port one from Philadelphia and one from Baltimore registering 9547 tons against three vessels of 5 1 tons in the corresponding month of last year The increase in the number of departures this month does not reflect any increase in trade as the figures include three vessels that have been in berth since June The total movement thus far this year foots 8 vessels registering 60 631 tons against 38 vessels of 62 62 tons for the corresponding months of last year The tonnage on berth and engaged for trade amounts to six vessels registering in the aggregate 11 [illegible] tons a small number than at any period for some months Rates are low and have been for a long time past and owners are loth to put their vessels on the face of freights to hurt , while to charter a vessel would entail sure loss to agents

Steamer freights remain dull as usual and the departure of yesterday had a very light cargo for the California market The ship Gen McClellan has been taken to load at this port The Samuel Watts will probably load on one of the lines

Markets are very firm with a fair trade doing

THE GENUINE

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

Hepatitis or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs increases on pressure, sometimes the pain is in the left side the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side, sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness the bowels in general are costive sometimes alternative with lax the head is troubled with pain accompanied with a dull heavy sensation in the back part There is generally a considerable loss of memory accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done A slight dry cough is sometimes an attendant The patient complains of weariness and debility he is easily startled his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it In fact he distrusts every remedy Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged

AGUE AND FEVER

DR C McLANE LIVER PILLS IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine are productive of the most happy results No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL

For all bilious derangements and as a simple purgative they are unequaled

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

The genuine are never sugar coated

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR McLANE'S LIVER PILLS

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C McLANE and FLEMING BROS on the wrappers

Insist upon having the genuine DR C McLANE'S LIVER PILLS prepared by Fleming Bros of Pittsburgh Pa the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation
